

Appendix

Appendix 1: The changes of Armenian territory within distinct centuries

Appendix 2: The Noah's Ark on Mount Ararat

Appendix 3: The literature on the annihilation of Armenian

Appendix 4: The visual proofs of massacres, deportations of Armenia

Appendix 5: The blind girl caressing the map of Armenia

Appendix 6: The grandfather who lost his whole family reading the Bible

Appendix 7: A boy finding consolidation in Armenian music

Appendix 8: The stamp apatride, which means stateless, without citizenship

Appendix 9: A Turkish fearful Sultan punished by an Armenian fidai.

Appendix 10: The mapping of places of Armenian annihilations in Ottoman government with the sword near and the red circle symbolizing massacres

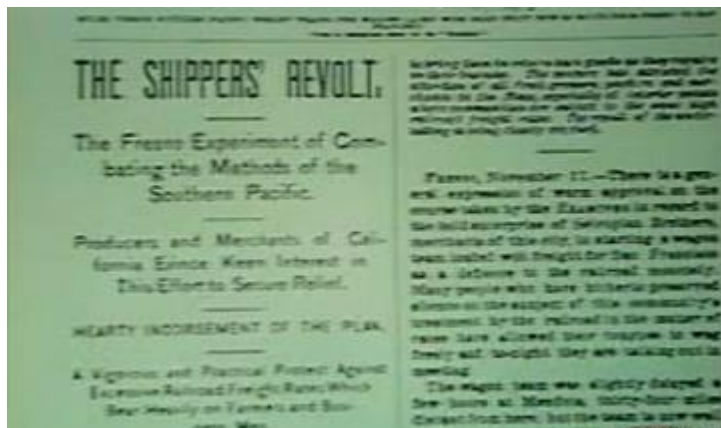

Appendix 11: An Armenian family from Marzavan, Turkey who settled in California

Appendix 12: Occupation of Armenians called normarts (newcomers) in Fresno

Appendix 13: The indication about Armenians in Californian newspaper

Appendix 14: The Armenian one hundred year old carpet

Appendix 15: The picture of Armenian nature with Mount Ararat

Appendix 16: The photo of young Maria Davis

Appendix 17: The little Catholic Church of Yerevan

Appendix 18: The photo of Khardalian's grandmother with tattoos

Appendix 19: The photos of an Armenian church and an Armenian filmmaker Parajanov

Appendix 20: The empty refrigerator of an Armenian family

Appendix 21: An Armenian woman labor in village Lichk

