We also encourage you to make your housing reservation right away as Stockholm is always overcrowded with tourists.

Information about the Europhoton program will soon be posted on the conference web site.

Please note that the Conference now accepts a very limited number of postdeadline papers (oral only) for presentation at the meeting. The purpose of postdeadline papers is to give participants the opportunity to hear new and significant results in rapidly advancing areas. Only those papers judged to be truly excellent and compelling in their timelines will be accepted. If you or some of your colleagues are interested in submitting papers, please register your paper via the conference website. Only electronic submissions are accepted and the deadline is 2 July 2012, 12.00 midnight.

We wish you an interesting and exciting conference and are looking forward to meeting you in Stockholm.

Sincerely,
