STRUCTURED DIALOGUE

Structured Dialogue stands for projects that enable discussions on agreed themes between young people, policy-makers and youth experts. The projects can take the form of meetings, conferences, consultations and events, or they can include a series of these activities. Structured Dialogue can be carried out at local, regional, national or European level. It promotes active participation of young people and improves their understanding of how democracy works. As a result of the projects, young people make their voice heard on how youth policies should be shaped and implemented in Europe.

Erasmus+ is the European Union's programme for boosting skills and employability through activities organised in the field of education, training, youth, and sport. Youth activities under Erasmus+ aim to improve the key competences, skills and employability of young people, promote young people's active participation in the society, their social inclusion and well-being, and foster improvements in youth work and youth policy at local, national and international level.
