Projekt Organizer(s) Ecumenical Youth Services (EYS) is an international volunteer program in Germany and was founded in the 1950s in the GDR. The work camps provide an opportunity for young people from all over the world to meet and work together in an international context on meaningful, socially relevant projects.

International Youth Work International encounters, exchange programs, and other types of projects in international youth work open-up cross-cultural fields of experience to young people in which they can actively and responsibly work towards understanding themselves, as well as people from other cultures, and societal topics.

Project description The protestant parish Mölbis went through hard times of environmental pollution because of brown coal mining in GDR-times. The volunteers did landscape and reconstruction work like the reconstruction of a rubble wall and painting walls. Apart from that the international group did the housekeeping and designed their free time.
