Traineeship title: clinical practices
Detailed programme of the traineeship period including tasks carried out by the trainee: During the 4 weeks of the practice Barbara was able to visit all departments of the internal medicine part of the hospital. She spent 3-4 days at the same department, getting involved in the rhythm of the clinic. She participated in the visits during the morning; she performed the complete physical examination of the patients. She had to present detailed anonymized patient documentations from each week of the practice. She could follow patients during the diagnostic procedures. During her stay she could participate in different kind of testing procedures and examinations, and also she was involved in setting the diagnosis, and deciding about the treatment.
Knowledge, skills (intellectual and practical) and competences acquired (achieved Learning Outcomes): The aim of the practice was that students of the 6th year, who have already achieved theoretical excellence in significant components of Internal Medicine, synthesize their knowledge during daily bedside practice and use it independently yet under proper supervision. Students work at accredited departments of Medicine of University Hospitals, Teaching Hospitals or at Teaching Divisions, as trainees similarly to residents, ward physicians or doctors in training, they gain empirical, hands-on experiences with patients. Practical requirements for students during and after the practice: Barbara took case histories and performed detailed physical examination of patients at the ward. She wrote a diagnostic and therapeutic plan after the admission of the patient. She summarize diagnostic test results and clinical course as a written discharge summary upon patient's discharge
