

Scottish Programming Languages and Verification Summer School 2024

University of Strathclyde, 29 July – 2 August 2024

Certificate of Participation

This is to certify that Csanád Telbisz attended the Scottish Programming Languages and Verification Summer School 2024 for the full duration 29 July to 2 August 2024, at the University of Strathclyde, Glasgow.

The SPLV summer school provides classes for PhD students that cover foundational as well as state of the art knowledge on the underlying principles needed to use or design new languages and verifying program correctness. It is comprised of two core courses and an invited course, followed by all students, as well as six specialised courses, where each student typically followed three courses each. In total, there were 25 hours of lectures during the summer school.
