Decree No 18/2016 of 5 August 2016 of the Minister for Human Capacities on the educational and output requirements of tertiary vocational programs and Bachelor and Master programs, and amending Decree No 8/2013 of 30 January 2013 of the Minister for Human Capacities on the common requirements of preparing teachers and the educational and output requirements of various teaching majors or Decree No 15/2006 (IV.3) of the Minister of Education on the educational and output requirements of Bachelor and Master programs

4.1.2. Aim of study

The aim of training is training specialists who have obtained some practical as well as comprehensive knowledge in Oriental studies and also have an inside view of Ancient studies. They have a comprehensive knowledge concerning the history and culture of the peoples and countries of Asia and North Africa or, in case of specialization in modern Greek, that of the Greek people following ancient times. Graduates obtain a survey of the history and the history of arts in their elected specialized studies. They know the general methods and basic techniques of research in Oriental studies as well as in their elected specialized study. Graduates will have a sound theoretical base on which to continue their studies in the second cycle of education (MA).

BA in Oriental Languages and Cultures grants:

- command of an oriental language at least at the intermediate level and another Oriental or ancient language at the basic level
- in case of specialization in modern Greek, command of Greek at the intermediate level
- effective oral and written communication, conveying their acquired knowledge in Hungarian
- the ability to interpret and introduce information, arguments and analyses from different aspects

BA graduates are able to:

- fulfil tasks which require knowledge of their specialized studies (e.g. libraries, museums, publishing or media) and in different fields of the economy (e.g. tourism; correspondence in foreign languages)
- fulfil tasks in public service which require knowledge of their specialized studies as well as a good command of the corresponding languages

BA graduates possess:

- high motivation and devotion towards the language and culture of their elected specialization;
- the ability to co-operate, and communication skills;
- a firm belief in the importance of the knowledge they have obtained about these cultures.

8. INFORMATION ON THE HUNGARIAN HIGHER EDUCATION SYSTEM

(modified in April 2020)

8.1. Types of Institutions and Institutional Control

The establishment and operation of higher education institutions are regulated by Act No. 204 of 2011 (National Higher Education Act). Operating within the legal framework of the National Higher Education Act, Hungarian higher education institutions are recognized state (public) or non-state (church or private) institutions. The list of recognized institutions is indicated in Annex 1 of the National Higher Education Act. Higher education studies are offered at two types of higher education institutions, egyetem (university) and főiskola (college). Universities and colleges may offer courses in all three training cycles. The programmes are identical at both types of institutions.

8.2. Types of Programmes and Degrees Awarded

The consecutive training cycles of higher education leading to a higher education degree are alapképzés (Bachelor course), mesterképzés (Master course) and doktori képzés (Doctoral course). In cases set by government decree or legislation, Master degrees can also be awarded after the completion of integrated, one-tier training.

In addition to the aforementioned, higher education institutions may conduct non-degree vocational higher education programmes and postgraduate specialist trainings and may offer adult education within the framework of lifelong learning as well.
