Dear Ms. Gujarathi,

Thank you for the update.

Given the urgency related to my PhD defense timeline and considering that nothing seems to have changed in the past five weeks, I would be grateful if it were possible to get in contact with the handling editor directly, should that help expedite the process. Please let me know if such contact is allowed under your policy or if there is any other way to facilitate the completion of the review.

Sincerely,
Peter Szecsi

Thanks for your e-mail.

We have received one reviewer report for the manuscript and the handling editor is waiting for one more report to log the decision.

Thanks

Dear Editorial Office,

I am writing to follow up on the status of my manuscript submitted in January. I understand how busy the editorial and review process can be, but I am in a difficult position. My PhD defense depends on the acceptance of this paper, and time is becoming very limited.

I kindly and respectfully ask if you could provide any update on the progress. I know everyone involved is doing their best, and I fully appreciate the effort it takes to manage the review process. If there is any way to help move things forward, I would be truly grateful.

Thank you for your time and understanding.

Sincerely,
Peter Szecsi

Dear Editorial Office,

I am writing to kindly inquire about the expected timeline for the review process of my manuscript submission. The reason for my request is that the timing of my PhD defense depends on the acceptance of this manuscript. I would greatly appreciate it if you could provide an estimate of when I might expect an editorial decision.

Additionally, please let me know if there is any way I can assist the review process.

Thank you very much for your time and assistance.

Best regards,
Peter Szecsi
