Márton Kolozsvári

Márton Kolozsvári is a psychology master's student currently on exchange at Utrecht University. He studies at ELTE University in Budapest, specialising in intercultural and social psychology. He is at UU taking a deep dive into the subject of human-computer interaction and video game development. "I'm passionate about a wide variety of topics, be it the sciences, arts, culture, or just weird fun facts. If it sounds strange, novel or otherwise interesting, I want to learn more about it," he says.
