Dear Orsolya Vasarhelyi,

Thank you for submitting your paper, "Evaluating Gender Bias in Large Language Models in Academic Knowledge Production", to the Fourth European Workshop on Algorithmic Fairness (EWAf'25).

Due to an oversight, the decision of your paper was not entered correctly in OpenReview. As a result you did not receive the notification for this paper last Monday. We sincerely apologize for the delay!

We are delighted to inform you that your submission has been accepted for publication in the conference proceedings of EWAf'25. Congratulations!

This year, we received a record number of 96 submissions. You can find the final reviews for your paper on the submission page in OpenReview at: <https://openreview.net/forum?id=I57DI5mphk>

We appreciate the time and effort you invested in your paper and are thankful you decided to submit to EWAf. We look forward to welcoming you in Eindhoven!

Finally, we would like to inform you that, similar to last year, we will soon open a call for posters. These posters are not part of the official proceedings, but provide an opportunity to present ongoing work at EWAf. We warmly invite you to submit a poster and forward this call to colleagues who may be interested. More information will follow on our website, <https://2025.ewaf.org>

With kind regards,

EWAf'25 Program Chairs

INFORMATION FOR ACCEPTED SUBMISSIONS

Conference registration and financial support

Every paper must have at least one author registered for the workshop. Information about how to apply for financial support for attending EWAF'25 will be communicated soon on the registration page: <https://2025.ewaf.org/attending/registration>

Camera ready version

For archival papers, please carefully read the reviewers' comments and submit the camera ready version of your paper by May 19, 2025, AoE on OpenReview.

Please make sure your paper adheres to the formatting instructions as presented in the call for papers: <https://2025.ewaf.org/submitting/call-for-papers>

- Authors using Word: please submit both the 1) .docx document, and 2) PDF export of your paper.
- Authors using LaTeX: please submit both the 1) zip file of your LaTeX project folder, and 2) PDF export of your paper.

The camera-ready deadline is strict! If you do not submit successfully by the camera-ready deadline, your paper may not be ready in time for the proceedings.

Paper presentation

Authors of accepted papers can choose to present their work in a lightning round and/or poster session. A set of papers will be selected for an in-depth presentation. More information regarding the presentation of your submission will be communicated at a later stage.

Please note that responding to this email will direct your reply to program-chairs@ewaf.org.
